ENTERING HIS THIRD CENTURY OF WEATHER PREDICTION

Why a Groundhog Day Card?

Rather than risk getting lost in the crush of the holiday season, we send our sincere wishes for a great year to WordKraft clients, suppliers and friends on a somewhat less cluttered occasion, Groundhog Day.

New Year's 2000 is behind us, but ahead lies another millennial milestone ... the new Phil-enium. When Punxsutawney Phil, that potent rodent of prognostication pokes his hairy head from the hole on Gobblers Knob, we begin a third century of Groundhog Day.

Here's a WordKraft wish for a cloudy and shadowless day that will bring the quick arrival of spring and a wonderful year to follow.

WordKards

They're good enough for your friends.
